DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, sct.

At a circuit court of the District of Columbia, begun and held in and for the county of Washington, at the city of Washington, on the first Monday of May, being the second day of the same month, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one, and of the independence of the United States of America the fifty-fifth:

Present:

The Honorable { WILLIAM CRANCH, Chief Judge.
BUCKNER THRUSTON, and JAMES S. MORSELL, Assistant Judges.
HENRY ASHTON, Esq., Marshal.

In the record of proceedings of the same court, among others, are the following, to wit:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA against
JOSEPH NOURSE.

Be it remembered, that, heretofore, to wit, on the twenty-second day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one, the said United States, by Thomas Swann, Esq., their attorney, filed in the circuit court here a record of appeal from the district court of the District of Columbia, in the words and figures following, to wit:

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, sct.

Pleas before the honorable the Judge of the United States' district court for the District of Columbia, held at the court-house in the town of Alexandria, the 4th day of January, 1831.

JOSEPH NOURSE, plaintiff,
vs.
THE UNITED STATES, defendant.

Be it remembered, that, heretofore, to wit, on the 14th day of October, in the year 1829, came the complainant aforesaid, and filed in the clerk's office of the said court a bill of complaint against the said defendants, which, together with the endorsements of the Hon. William Cranch, judge of the said district court thereon, is in the words and figures following:

To William Cranch, Esq., Chief Judge of the District of Columbia, and Judge of the district court of the United States for said district:

This the bill of complaint of Joseph Nourse, late Register of the Treasury of the United States, shows that his public accounts as such register, and agent of the Treasury Department in disbursing certain funds, and settling certain accounts of contingencies and other miscellaneous matters, and as agent for the joint library committees of Congress, matters altogether distinct from, and unconnected with, his duties as such register, have been settled at the Treasury since his removal from office; upon which settlement, a pretended balance has been found against him, for the sum of eleven thousand two hundred and fifty dollars and twenty-six cents; for which a warrant of distress has been issued against his lands and tenements, goods and chattels, by Stephen Pleasonton, Esq., agent of the Treasury, in the pretended execution of the act of Congress, passed on 15th day of May, 1820, "providing for the better organization of the Treasury Department," which warrant has been levied, during the absence of this complainant, on his lands, tenements, goods, and chattels, by the marshal of this district; copy of which is annexed. That the said account is unjust and illegal; and so far from any balance being due thereon to the United States, a considerable balance should have been struck thereon in favor of this complainant, as appears by an account hereto annexed, which he declares is just and true.

That, besides his regular duties as register, established by law, and stated according to the custom and routine of his office as such register, he was, for a long course of years, that is to say, from the year 1790 till his recent dismission from office, duly employed by the proper department of the Government of the United States, in the separate, independent, and wholly extra business of special agent for the disbursement of the contingent funds of the Treasury Department, and for the settlement, as such special agent, of all the numerous accounts connected with the disbursement of those funds.

That this distinct branch of duty, which he took upon himself, at the special instance and request of the proper department of the Government, and having competent authority to engage him or any other agent in that capacity, and for the performance of those duties, devolved upon him great labor, responsibility, and risk, altogether independent of, and apart from, his proper duties as register, and occupied a great portion of his private hours, that is, of those hours, when, according to the established order and routine of his department, he was altogether discharged and free from the proper duties appertaining to his office of register, and had his time entirely at his own disposal, but for his employment as special agent as aforesaid. That the extent of the extra labor and responsibility so devolved upon him cannot be adequately described or conceived, without a reference to, and inspection of, his books, bank accounts, and vouchers connected with this branch of his employment in the public service; and he therefore prays that these documents may be ordered to be produced from the Treasury Department, and audited in this court: that, besides the great labor and consumption of time induced by this extra employment, he was exposed to considerable pecuniary losses, from the ordinary errors that occasionally occur in the accounts of the best accountants, from the multiplicity and minuteness of the various accounts and vouchers to be settled and preserved: that when he undertook this branch of public employment, the precise nature and amount of compensation therefor were not ascertained by any particular stipulation: that, if the Government had employed any indifferent person to perform these duties, without any other precise compensation stipulated beforehand, a reasonable mercantile commission or per centage on the sums disbursed would have resulted to such person, according as well to general usage as to the custom of the Treasury Department in the like cases. That the usage of the Treasury Department, and other departments of the Government, has invariably been, since the organization of the General Government, to allow such commissions or per centage, not only to unofficial persons so employed, but to official persons and clerks of the departments, when such duties were distinct from the stated duties appertaining to their offices and stations, notwithstanding such official persons were in the receipt of fixed salaries for their stated duties.

That, as early as the year 1800, this complainant made out an abstract of his disbursements under these extra agencies, claiming to be allowed a compensation therefor; which original abstract is on file in the Treasury Department; from whence he prays that it may be produced and audited in this court. That he has duly made out and presented his account to the proper accounting officers of the Treasury, charging his commission at the rate of two and one half per cent. on the amount of his disbursements, which, if allowed, would, after a full and fair settlement of all his public accounts, leave the United States indebted to him in a balance of nine thousand eight hundred and eighty six dollars and twenty-four cents; which he has good reason to believe, and does verily think and believe, to be justly and equitably due and owing to him from the United States, as stated in his said annexed account. That the accounting officers of the Treasury have altogether rejected and thrown out his said charge, and denied him any manner of compensation for his extra services as such special agent as aforesaid, not upon the ground or pretence that his charge of commission is too high or unreasonable, if he were entitled to any compensation; but that he is not entitled to any compensation whatever for his extra services as such special agent, and pretending that his stated salary as register shall be received as full compensation, not only for his proper duties as register, but for his extra employment and services in the agencies above mentioned.

That the commissions or per centage so charged by the complainant are not only reasonable and usual in the like cases, but are an inadequate compensation for the peculiar labor and responsibility of the complainant in the discharge of the particular employment and duties for which they are charged. And this complainant further shows, that he is well advised by counsel, and believes, that the act of Congress under which the said warrant of distress is pretended to have been issued, being a law in derogation of common right, and of the ordinary and approved remedies under the general law of the land, ought to be construed with the utmost strictness against any authority assumed under it, and in favor of the citizen; but, that in no reasonable construction of the same, can this complainant or his accounts, either as Register of the Treasury, or as the special agent of the Treasury, or as the agent of the joint library committees of Congress, above described, be brought within the description of persons over whom that act gives jurisdiction to the agent of the Treasury.

By the second and third sections of the said act, the officers subjected to the summary jurisdiction and process of such Treasury agent are distributed into two classes: 1st, those employed to collect and receive the public money before it is paid into the Treasury; 2dly, those employed to disburse the public money after it is paid into the Treasury, appropriated for the service of the civil, naval, or military departments. There can be no pretence whatever, and he presumes none is set up, to bring this complainant within the first class; and, therefore, the only question is, whether he falls within the second.

This class he is well advised and believes was intended to comprehend none but the regularly appointed officers of the Government, charged, ex officio, with disbursements for any of the three great departments named in the act. That this description cannot embrace mere subordinate agents employed by any particular department of the Government, as by the Treasury, to disburse the contingent funds of the department, such agent not being an officer who is, ex officio, to disburse the public money appropriated for the service of either of the three great departments named; but, in the strictest sense, a mere unofficial agent, employed informally, without any letter patent, or commission or letter of appointment, to perform extra services for the Treasury as a commission merchant or banker; to make purchases or accept bills on public account, might be employed, without attaching to such commission merchant or banker the character of functions of a public officer. Whereas, the 3d section of the act throughout describes the party subjected to the summary process authorized by it, as "any officer employed," &c.; "such delinquent officer," &c.: and as to his office of Register of the Treasury, which constituted the only official relation between him and the Government of the United States, it was not an office, the duties or employment of which consisted in the disbursement of any public money appropriated for the services of any of the three great departments of service named in the 3d section of the act of Congress.

Nor did this complainant, as such register, receive or disburse, nor was he competent, as such register, to receive or disburse, any of the public money charged to him in the said pretended account so settled by the accounting officers of the Treasury, and upon which the said warrant of distress was issued as aforesaid.

Nevertheless, the said accounting officers of the Treasury have unjustly and unlawfully charged him, in the settlement of his official account as register, with all the moneys received by him for disbursement as such special agent as aforesaid; and the whole of the alleged delinquency is charged to him officially as register, and under that official head; and against him, officially as register, such warrant was issued. Whereas, his said account for the receipts and disbursements of public money was wholly unofficial, and connected with his official duties and station as register.

The complainant therefore submits, that, whatever its merit, in the opinion of the court, of the essential dispute on matters of account between him and the accounting officers, the parties may be remitted to the ordinary process of law, so as to have a fair trial and regular adjudication of the merits, before execution be had of his body or estate. Therefore, this complainant prays that injunction may be granted to him to stay proceedings on the said warrant altogether; and that he may have such further and other relief in the premises, as to this court shall seem meet, and agreeable to equity and good conscience.

JOSEPH NOURSE.

August 25, 1829.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, county of Washington, to wit.

On the 29th day of August, 1829, before the subscriber, one of the justices of the peace for the county aforesaid, the abovenamed Joseph Nourse made oath, in due form of law, that such of the matters, as are stated as of his own knowledge in the foregoing bill are true, and that such as are therein stated as of the knowledge of any other person, he believes to be true.

WILLIAM HEBB.

To Ed. I. Lee,
Clerk of the Dis. Court of the Dis. of Col.

Upon filing this bill and the bond by me approved, issue a writ of injunction to stay proceedings altogether upon the warrant in the bill mentioned.

W. CRANCH,
Chief Judge of the Cir. Court of the Dis. of Col.

October 12, 1829.

Whereupon the following subpœna and injunction did issue.

District of Columbia, to wit.—The United States of America, to the Marshal of the District of Columbia, greeting.

You are hereby commanded to summon Stephen Pleasonton, agent of the Treasury of the United States, to appear before the honorable judge of the district court of the District of Columbia, at the court-house in the town of Alexandria, at the next court, to answer a bill of injunction exhibited against him by Joseph Nourse, late Register of the Treasury of the United States; and this you shall in no wise omit, under the penalty of $333 33; and have then and there this writ.

Witness the honorable William Cranch, judge of our said court, this fourteenth day of October, 1829.

EDM. I. LEE, C. C. [L. s.]

To enjoin Stephen Pleasonton, agent of the Treasury of the United States, from further proceedings upon a warrant of distress against the lands and tenements, goods and chattels, of the complainant, Joseph Nourse, late Register of the Treasury of the United States, until the further order of the court.

EDM. I. LEE, C. C.

Summoned:

T. RINGGOLD, Marshal.

At another day, to wit, at a court continued and held for the said district, the 2d of January, 1830, came the parties aforesaid, by their attorneys, and thereupon the attorney for the United States files their answer; and, by consent, this cause coming on to be heard, upon the motion of the attorney for the United States to dissolve the injunction, the same is, upon hearing, ordered to be dissolved; and, by like consent, it is agreed, that, in case this cause shall be carried to the circuit court by appeal, that a general replication may be filed, and that either party shall be at liberty to take and file such testimony in that court, as might have been taken and filed here, and, when so taken and filed, shall avail either party in the same manner, as if taken and filed here.

The answer of the United States of America to a bill of injunction filed against them in the district court of the United States for the district of Potomac, by Joseph Nourse, late Register of the Treasury of the United States.

The United States, by Thomas Swann, their attorney, answer and say, that, upon a settlement by the proper officers of the Government of the general account of the complainant, comprehending the different agencies under which he acted as Register of the Treasury, he was found indebted to the United States in the sum of $11,769 13, as will appear by the account settled as aforesaid, a copy of which is exhibited by the complainant in his bill of complaint, with the letter of Joseph Anderson, comptroller, and to which the United States refer, and request that they may be considered as a part of this answer.

The United States, by their attorney aforesaid, state, that the said complainant had rendered to the United States his general account against them, charging a commission of two and a half per cent. upon all moneys which had passed through his hands in the different agencies in which he had acted as aforesaid, and claiming, by that account, a balance, as due to him from the United States, of $9,367 87, as will appear by a copy of the said account, exhibited by the complainant, and made a part also of his said bill of complaint.

The United States, by their said attorney, state, that the grounds upon which the United States had claimed from the complainant the aforesaid balance of $11,769 87, are fully stated and disclosed by the aforesaid letter of the comptroller; and the difference between the account of the United States and that rendered by the complainant, with the exception of $54 50, as stated in the comptroller's letter, arises from the charges of a commission, as hereinbefore stated, of two and a half per cent. upon the public money which had passed through the hands of the complainant as aforesaid.

The United States, by their said attorney, deny that the complainant is entitled to the commission which he claims as aforesaid, and say that there is no law of the United States authorizing any such commission, or any commission whatever upon the public moneys which had passed through his hands as aforesaid; and they insist that the balance of $11,769 13 is justly and fairly due from the complainant to the United States, and that the United States were authorized by law, and fully justified in resorting to the remedy by distress, to enforce the payment of the said balance: the United States do therefore request that the injunction granted to the said complainant in this case may be dissolved, and that they may be permitted to pursue their legal remedies for the recovery of the said balance.

THOMAS SWANN,
Att'y U. S.

And at another day, to wit, at the rules held in the clerk's office of the said court for the month of September, 1830, came the parties by their attorneys, and filed there the following agreement, and order of the judge:

District of Columbia, District Court.

vs.
THE UNITED STATES.

The order for dissolution of the injunction, and decree dismissing the bill in this cause, having been made under a misapprehension that the evidence might be taken in the circuit court upon the appeal, it is agreed by the parties that the said order and decree shall be set aside, the cause reinstated upon the docket of the district court at the next term, and the cause set for hearing at that term; and that, in the mean time, a commission shall issue to Benjamin Lear, Esq. to take testimony and evidence in the cause returnable to the next term, reasonable notice being given to the adverse party of the time and place of taking the same.

THOMAS SWANN,
Att'y U. S.

18*th August*, 1830.

The clerk of the district court will issue the commission agreeably to the above agreement of the parties.

W. CRANCH.

18*th August*, 1830.

Whereupon, the said cause was docketed, and commission awarded.

And at another day, to wit, at a court continued and held for the said district, the 20th day of December, 1830, this cause having been regularly set for hearing upon the bill, answer, general replication, depositions, and exhibits, and the other evidence admitted by the parties, and coming on to be heard, and having been argued by counsel, it is this 20th day of December, 1830, considered, ordered, and adjudged, by the court, that the said Joseph Nourse has produced satisfactory evidence that he did, for a long course of years, render various services, and disburse large sums of money for the use of the United States, and, at their request, from time to time, made through the respective Secretaries of the Treasury of the United States, for the time being; which services and disbursements were performed and made by the said Joseph Nourse, over and above the services required by the duties of his office as Register of the Treasury of the United States, for which said extra services and disbursements he has never been allowed any compensation in the settlement of his accounts at the Treasury Department: and, it being by the court deemed expedient to ascertain, by the report of auditors to be appointed by the court for that purpose, the value of those services, and the compensation to which the said Joseph Nourse is equitably entitled therefor, and for his disbursements as aforesaid, it is further ordered, that Robert J. Taylor, Phineas Janney, and Colin Auld, be, and they are hereby, appointed auditors to ascertain the said value and compensation, and to report thereon to this court without delay; and that such of the papers and evidence in this cause as relate to that subject, be submitted to the said auditors for their better information thereon: and it is further ordered, that the further consideration of this cause be postponed until the coming in of the report of the said auditors.

And at a court continued and held for the said district, the 4th day of January, 1831, the auditors, Robert J. Taylor, Phineas Janney, and Colin Auld, to whom, by an interlocutory order of this court, bearing date December 20th, 1830, it was referred to ascertain the value of the services rendered by the complainant to the defendant, over and above the regular official duties attached to his office of Register of the Treasury of the United States, as set forth in said interlocutory order as aforesaid, having made and returned their report to the court, bearing date the 31st day of December, 1830, in and by which the said auditors state, among other things, that a commission of two and a half per cent. upon the sum of nine hundred and forty-three thousand three hundred and eight dollars and eighty-three cents, amounting to the sum of twenty-three thousand five hundred and eighty-two dollars and seventy-two cents, is an equitable compensation for the services so as aforesaid rendered to the United States by the said Joseph Nourse; and that the said services are equitably worth the said last mentioned sum, and no sufficient reasons having been presented to the court against the confirmation of said report of said auditors, it is thereupon, this 4th day of January, 1831, ordered, adjudged, and decreed, that the said report be, and the same is hereby, in all particulars, confirmed and made absolute.

And the said cause now also coming on for final decision upon said report, and the bill, answer, replication, exhibits, depositions, and other evidence admitted by the parties, and upon the equity reserved under and by the said interlocutory order, it is further ordered, decreed, and adjudged, that the injunction heretofore granted in this cause be, and the same is hereby, perpetuated; and that the said defendants be, and they are hereby, perpetually enjoined from proceeding further against the said complainant upon the warrant of distress in the bill mentioned, for or on account of a claim or demand, for the recovery of which the said warrant of distress issued; from which decree, the defts. appeal to the circuit court now in session in Washington county.

In the case of Joseph Nourse against the United States of America, before the district court of the District of Columbia.

The subscribers, appointed auditors by the decree of the court in the above cause, made on the 20th day of this month, (of which a copy is annexed,) to value the services of the complt., and the compensation to which he is equitably entitled for the same, and for disbursements of public money made by him, at the request of the United States, through the respective Secretaries of the Treasury for the time being, over and above the services required by the duties of his office of Register of the Treasury of the United States, respectfully report, that it appears from the documents and evidence submitted to them, that, from the 10th of April, 1790, to the 31st of May, 1829, thirty-nine years, one month, and twenty-one days, the complainant, as agent for the payment of contingent expenses of the Treasury Department, for stationery, and printing of public accounts, for payment of the superintendent and watchman of the State and Treasury Departments, for miscellaneous disbursements, comprising fifteen different agencies, for advances made to sundry persons who brought from the several States the votes for Presidents and Vice Presidents of the United States, and on account of the Congressional Library, disbursed the sum of nine hundred and forty-three thousand three hundred and eight dollars and eighty-three cents; the services rendered in which said agencies, and in making said disbursements, were over and above the services required of him by the duties of his office as Register of the Treasury of the United States: we find, that, for similar services, where no special provision had been made by law, a commission of two and half per cent. has been heretofore, in many cases, allowed at the Treasury of the United States; and we are of opinion, that a commission of two and a half per cent. on the said sum of nine hundred and forty thousand and three hundred and eight dollars and eighty-three cents, amounting to the sum of twenty-three thousand five hundred and eighty two dollars and seventy-two cents, is an equitable compensation for the services so as aforesaid rendered to the United States by the said Joseph Nourse; and that the said services are equitably worth the said last mentioned sum.

All which is respectfully submitted.

PHINEAS JANNEY.
COLIN AULD.

ALEXANDRIA, Dec. 31, 1830.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, to wit.—The United States of America, to Benjamin L. Lear, Esq., of the city of Washington, greeting.

Know ye, that we, trusting to your fidelity and provident circumspection in diligently examining all witnesses that may be brought before you in behalf of Joseph Nourse, in a suit depending in our United States district court for the District of Columbia, between Joseph Nourse and the United States: We therefore desire you, that, at such time and place as you shall appoint, you assemble the witnesses before you, that you call, and cause to come, and diligently examine, on the Holy Evangelist of Almighty God, touching the matter in controversy between the aforesaid parties; and, when you have examined them, and taken their deposition as aforesaid, that you return the same to our said court, certified under your hand and seal, enclosed, together with this writ.

Witness William Cranch, Esquire, judge of our said court, this 6th day of September, in the year of our Lord, 1830.

EDM. I. LEE, C. C. [L. S.]

District court of the United States, District of Columbia.

vs.
UNITED STATES.

Michael Nourse, being duly sworn according to law, deposes and says, that he is a clerk in the office of the Register of the Treasury of the United States, and has been so for upwards of thirty years.

I am acquainted with the fact that the complainant has since, shortly after his appointment as Register of the Treasury, acted in the capacity of agent for the disbursement of the funds for the payment of the contingent expenses of the Treasury Department. He had also the disbursement of other funds. As for the printing the statements of the public accounts, for the paying of the watchmen for the State and Treasury buildings, for the Congress Library, printing certificates of the public debt, there was no law creating such agency, or defining its duties; the money was placed in his hands by the Secretary of the Treasury, with a request that he would disburse it. The document, marked A, is an official statement of the amount of moneys so disbursed by the complainant, taken from the books of the Treasury. The moneys thus received and disbursed were settled and accounted for in the usual mode of settlement of the public moneys in the office of the First Auditor, and transmitted as all other accounts settled in that office are.

I know of no Government funds which the Register of the Treasury, under the law creating that office as such, has the disbursement of. The accounts of those disbursements will best exhibit the amount of labor which was imposed on the individual who had the disbursement of the money. I know that it was very considerable; the books were usually kept by Mr. Nourse at his private residence, and the entries made there.

The accounts in the Treasury of these disbursements are kept with complainant as agent, &c. In case of any inaccuracy in the accounting for the moneys placed in his hands, or in case of any loss of vouchers, the loss would fall upon the agent entirely: instances of the kind, where losses have occurred, have happened within my knowledge. The accounts of these disbursements, anterior to the year 1814, were lost, with other Treasury documents, at the time of the destruction of the public buildings in that year, but they were similar in character with those exhibited. The accounts, as settled, show that Mr. Nourse was sometimes in advance on these disbursements to a considerable extent. The keeping of those accounts must have been very troublesome and laborious, from the large amount of money expended, the numerous individuals to whom payments were made, the small amounts in which they were generally issued, and the necessity which existed for taking separate receipts, and giving separate checks to each individual. Prior to the year 1819, the disbursements made on account of the contingencies of the Treasury Department were for the offices of the Secretary, Comptroller, Treasurer, Auditors, Commissioner of the Revenue, Commissioner of the Land Office, and for the Department generally. In the year 1819, the offices of the 2d Comptroller, 2d, 3d, and 4th Auditors, were added thereto. From the year 1801, one of the clerks in the Comptroller's office acted as superintendent of the building; he was subordinate to the agent, and received five hundred dollars per annum as extra compensation for this service.

MICHAEL NOURSE.

I admit that I was present, and had due notice of the taking of this deposition.

Charles J. Nourse, being duly sworn according to law, deposeth and says, that I know that, during many years past, my father, the complainant, had the disbursement of large sums of Government moneys, for the purposes mentioned in the deposition of Michael Nourse; that he was much occupied at his own house, particularly during the evenings, in keeping and arranging the accounts in reference to these disbursements.

I know from my own observation that they cost him much labor and trouble. In some instances I have heard him say, that, owing to some inaccuracy in the accounts, or the loss of some vouchers, that he was the loser at one time of about $800. The accounts of these disbursements are kept in about twenty blotters, besides journal and ledgers.

I have carefully compared the book exhibited, marked B, with the books of original entries, and it contains an accurate copy of those books, so far as the same set forth the disbursement of the public moneys as agent, up to the year 1814; since which period the books and accounts in the Treasury exhibit the settlement of these funds.

I admit that I had due notice, and was present at the taking of this deposition.

Richard Cutts, being duly sworn according to law, deposes and says: I was Second Comptroller of the Treasury of the United States for about twelve years, during which period the accounts of the War and Navy Department passed through that office: so far as my experience goes, when officers of the army or navy had to make disbursements of public moneys, which duties were not part of their official duties, it was customary to allow them a commission, usually, of two and a half per cent. upon the amount of such disbursements. These allowances were made by the head of the department, either by a general regulation, (see vol. 4 of State Papers, 1st session 21st Congress, herewith,) or special allowance; such allowances have been made in cases of disbursing officers disbursing moneys beyond the sphere of their official duties.

RICHARD CUTTS.

I admit that I had due notice of the taking of this deposition.

John Laird, of Georgetown, in the District of Columbia, a witness on the part of the defendant, being produced and sworn, testifies as follows: That he is, and has been for many years, a merchant in Georgetown; and the usual charge among merchants, so far as his experience has extended, for disbursement of moneys, making purchases, and payments therefor, has been two and a half per cent. on the amount disbursed, unless a special bargain is made, which is sometimes the case in transactions of large amount, and then a smaller commission is agreed on; but, in the absence of any agreement, the usual charge made and expected is two and a half per cent.

Deposition of Thomas L. Smith.

Personally appeared before me, a justice of the peace, Thomas L. Smith, Register of the Treasury, who deposeth and saith, that, as agent for paying the contingent expenses of the Treasury Department, the following duties devolved: To meet the payment of the contingent accounts, by the agent, checks are issued on the bank where funds have been previously deposited to his credit. A cash book, bank book, and ledger, in the abstract form, are kept, and entries made weekly; and the accounts, vouchers, books, &c. are weekly examined by the agent; which employs about two hours, weekly, for said examination. From the ledger are made up the quarterly accounts, which, with the vouchers, are handed to the accounting officers for settlement, in the usual manner.

The duties performed by the agent are during office hours; and those performed by his clerks, as auxiliary to the said agency, are also during office hours. The duties specifically performed by the agent are, signing the checks, examining the accounts, vouchers, &c. once a week, and quarterly examinations for the Auditor's settlement.

It is presumed, but for this agency, the following would be the routine of all payments made from the contingent fund: It would be required of every claimant to present his account to the First Auditor; the account would be examined by that officer, and reported to the Comptroller.

The report would be copied at large, by the Auditor, in books kept for that purpose. When the report reached the Comptroller, it would be examined, entered, admitted, (if correct,) and certified. The account and report would then be transmitted to the Register, a certified copy be handed up to the Secretary. Upon this copy the Secretary's warrant would issue; be entered in his office to the debit of the appropriation, countersigned by the Comptroller, and entered in his office; be recorded by the Register, signed, and forwarded to the Treasurer, by the Treasurer entered and signed. The warrant would then be delivered to the claimant, who would give a receipt for the same.

In addition to the report and warrant, on each account being signed by the officers of the Treasury, this would, either together or separately, pass through the hands of ten clerks. There are about one thousand contingent accounts paid annually.

Deposition of Will. C. H. Waddell.

The deposition of William C. H. Waddell, taken in a suit in chancery now depending in the district court of admiralty for the District of Columbia, in which Joseph Nourse, late Register of the United States, is complainant, and the United States are defendants.

This deponent, being first duly sworn, deposeth and saith, that he is now, and has been for about eighteen months past, a clerk in the Department of State, upon a salary of fourteen hundred dollars a year.

That, in addition to the duties which appertain to his office as clerk, he has acted as an agent for the contingent funds of the department, and has disbursed the moneys of those funds: that those disbursements have amounted to about sixty thousand dollars a year, and during the present year will not, he believes, be less than several hundred thousand dollars.

That he has received no commission upon those disbursements, and does not consider himself entitled to receive any under the present laws of the land.

WM. COVENTRY H. WADDELL.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, county of Washington, sct.

The foregoing statement was, this fourth day of January, 1831, sworn and subscribed to, before me, a justice of the peace for the county aforesaid.

Another deposition of a similar import of considered as before the court, and admitted as evidence.

Deposition of Peter W. Gallandel.

Be it remembered, that, on the 4th day of January, 1831, personally appears before the subscriber, a justice of the peace, Peter W. Gallandel, and, being duly sworn, deposeth and saith, that he has been employed as a clerk in the Register's office for several years, and since some time in 1826 has had charge of the books in which accounts were kept of the disbursement of the contingent fund of the Treasury Department, and of the superintendant and watchmen, and also of the Congress Library fund, both before and since the removal of Joseph Nourse, Esq. from the office of the Register; that he is paid, like other clerks, by the Government, and has never received any other compensation than his salary or pay as a clerk in that office.

That, in Mr. Nourse's time, as well as since, Col. Mich'l Nourse, chief clerk in the Register's office, has kept the check book, and filled up the checks during my clerkship: in Mr. Joseph Nourse's time he was authorized to sign the checks for Joseph Nourse; but, as Mr. Joseph Nourse also kept a separate check book, the payments were occasionally made by himself. That this deponent, in the usual office hours, settled his accounts once a week, and submitted them to the Register for examination, which was generally made in office hours, though at certain times Mr. Joseph Nourse took the book to his house for examination; but he does not know that Mr. Nourse kept any other books in which the forementioned accounts were stated, than those kept by the deponent.

The deponent took on himself the principal labor of the business, except the examination of the weekly account rendered to the Register, and the yearly accounts for the Auditor; these were carefully looked over by the Register; and he also at times made the original entries, previous to the forementioned duties devolving on the deponent. It appeared to him, from Mr. Joseph Nourse's books, that he (Mr. Nourse) had much arduous labor in keeping these accounts himself.

Sworn before me, the day above mentioned.

R. S. BRISCOE, J. Peace.

Question, on the part of the United States, to Charles J. Nourse.

You have stated that the accounts which your father kept, in relation to his disbursements on account of the contingencies of the Treasury Department, were in about twenty different blotters, besides journals and ledgers.

Can you state whether, if these disbursements had been made by any one else, the same number of blotters, and journals, and ledgers, would not have been necessary, and whether your father would not have been obliged, as Register, to have made the very same entries that are now to be found in the blotters, journals, and ledgers? If not, state, as well as you can, what additional labor was imposed upon him by this course of duty, that is to say, what additional labor he was obliged to perform, which he would not have performed if some other person had made those disbursements?

Charles J. Nourse, in answer to the within questions, replies, that if the disbursements in the several agencies referred to had been made by any one else than Joseph Nourse, late Register of the Treasury, so far from the same number of blotters, journals, and ledgers being necessary, not one single entry connected with these disbursements could have been made therein; the whole of the labor attending the disbursements in all its minute parts, the examination of the vouchers, the accountability of the money of the money, would all have been saved to him, if any other person had disbursed the funds; the Register of the Treasury having, as such, only to keep a general account of all moneys advanced by the Government to individuals, and to register such general statements of the credits that such individuals may be found entitled to, on settlement of their accounts by the Auditors and Comptrollers of the Treasury.

Question, on the part of the United States, to Michael Nourse.

You have stated that Joseph Nourse, late Register of the Treasury, acting in the capacity of agent of the Treasury in the disbursement of the funds for the contingent expenses of the Treasury Department, and that he also had the disbursement of other funds belonging to the Treasury Department. Now, will you be pleased to state the course of duty which the Register would have been bound to perform, in relation to these disbursements, supposing they had been disbursed by any one else: would it have been the duty of the Register, in case these disbursements had been made by any other person than the Register, to have examined the vouchers, settled the accounts, and to have caused the same entries to have been made in the books of the Treasury, that are now to be found there. In short, be pleased to state what additional labor the Register was obliged to perform by this course of duty, which he would not have performed if some other person had made these disbursements.

I, Michael Nourse, in answer to the within questions, reply, that any other person been employed to disburse the contingent accounts, the only duty the Register would have performed, would be, the entering in the official books the amount of moneys received by, and the credit to which the person was entitled upon the settlement of his account, as certified by the Comptroller, and the filling the account and vouchers. Had any other person been employed, it would not have been the duty of the Register to examine the vouchers, settle the accounts, or make any other entry than those in the official books referred to above.

The additional labor performed by Mr. Nourse was very considerable, but to what extent, I cannot say, without examining the several settlements made by him, in connexion with the entries in detail made in his private books.

Agreement of counsel.

The United States propose to prove, by the Clerk of the House of Representatives, and the Clerk of the Senate, that large sums of money are annually disbursed by them for the expenses of printing, stationery, fuel, and other expenses of the Government, to the amount of about $100,000, and that they receive no commission upon these disbursements.

The complainant waives the necessity of taking this testimony, and admits the facts.

EXHIBITS.

To Tench Ringgold, Esquire, Marshal of the District of Columbia.

Whereas Joseph Nourse, late Register of the Treasury, in relation to his several accounts, as United States' agent, stands indebted to the United States, in a cash balance of eleven thousand seven and sixty nine dollars and thirteen cents, agreeably to the settlement of his account, made by the proper accounting officers of the Treasury, a copy of which is herewith enclosed; and whereas the said Joseph Nourse, having failed to pay over, 907.

according to the act of Congress, passed the fifteenth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and twenty, entitled "An act for the better organization of the Treasury Department," the said sum of eleven thousand seven hundred and sixty-nine dollars and thirteen cents, are, therefore, in pursuance of the said act, to command you to proceed immediately to levy, and collect the said sum of eleven thousand seven hundred and sixty-nine dollars and thirteen cents, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the said Joseph Nourse, giving ten days' previous notice of such intended sale, by affixing an advertisement of the articles to be sold at two or more public places in the town or county where the said goods or chattels were taken, or in the town or county where the owner of such goods or chattels may reside; and should there not be found sufficient goods and chattels to satisfy the said sum of eleven thousand seven hundred and sixty-nine dollars and thirteen cents, remaining due and unpaid as aforesaid, you are hereby commanded to commit the body of the said Joseph Nourse to prison, there to remain until discharged by due course of law: and should the said Joseph Nourse be committed to prison, as aforesaid, or if he abscond, and goods and chattels, sufficient to satisfy the said sum of eleven thousand seven hundred and sixty-nine dollars and thirteen cents, be not found, you are hereby commanded to levy upon, and expose to sale, at public auction, for ready money, to the highest bidder, the lands, tenements, and hereditaments of the said Joseph Nourse, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the said sum of eleven thousand seven hundred and sixty-nine dollars and thirteen cents, or whatever sum there may remain due and unpaid thereof, after you shall have given notice of the said sale, at least three weeks prior to its taking place, in not less than three public places in the county of district where such real estate is situate; and all moneys which may remain of the proceeds of such sale, after satisfying the said sum of eleven thousand seven hundred and sixty-nine dollars and thirteen cents, and paying the reasonable costs and charges of the sale, you are required to return to the proprietor or proprietors of the land or real estate sold as aforesaid: and whatever you may do in obedience to this warrant, make return thereof to this office; and for so doing this shall be your sufficient authority. Given under my hand and seal, at my office, in the Department of the Treasury of the United States, at the city of Washington, in the District of Columbia, this fourteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty-nine.

S. PLEASONTON, [SEAL.]
Agent of the Treasury.

I certify that the above is a true copy of the original warrant issued in the case of Joseph Nourse, Esq., duly compared with the record in this office.

S. PLEASONTON,
5th Auditor, and agent of the Treasury.

Letter from Jos. Anderson, Comptroller, to Jos. Nourse.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Comptroller's Office, 26th June, 1829.

SIR: Upon a statement of a general account, comprehending the different agencies under which you acted as late Register of the Treasury, the following balances were found to be due on them, respectively, to the United States, to wit:

As agent for the joint Library Committee of Congress, -	$2,502 55
Ditto for paying the expenses of stating and printing the public accounts, - - - - - -	934 98
Ditto for paying the superintendent and watchmen of the buildings occupied by the State and Treasury Departments, -	1,325 41
Ditto for paying the expenses of printing certificates of the public debt, - - - - - -	1,011 29
Ditto for paying the contingent expenses of the Treasury Department, - - - - - -	5,994 90
Amounting, in the whole, to	$11,769 13

In the general account rendered by you, a balance of $9,367 87 is claimed; between which and the balance above stated there is a difference of $21,137, and is occasioned, with the exception of $54 50 paid to Gabriel Nourse and James Watson, suspended for want of vouchers, by your having charged a commission of two and a half per cent. on all the moneys which have passed through your hands, under the different agencies above specified, but which the accounting officers of the Treasury could not allow, there being no law to authorize or sanction such a charge.

A copy of the Treasury settlement of your account is enclosed for your information. It becomes my duty to request that you will deposite the above mentioned balance of $11,769 13, in the office of discount and deposite of the Branch Bank of the United States at Washington city, to the credit of the Treasury of the United States, taking duplicate receipts therefor from the cashier, one of which you will forward to this department.

Respectfully,

JOS. ANDERSON, Comptroller.

Jos. Nourse, Esq., late Register of the Treasury.

Certified copy of the certificate of Oliver Wolcott, formerly Secretary of the Treasury.

I certify that Joseph Nourse, Esq., Register of the Treasury, has been employed as agent for defraying the incidental and contingent expenses of the department since its establishment, and that he has regularly accounted for the moneys entrusted to him to a recent period.

The disbursements have been numerous, and of course must have occasioned considerable trouble to the Register, for which has has received no specified compensation.

OLIVER WOLCOTT.

Jan'y 19, 1801.

I certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the original, known by me to be in the handwriting of Oliver Wolcott, Esq., late Secretary of the Treasury.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and affixed my notarial seal, this 9th day of January, A. D. 1830.

Certificate of Richard Rush.

WASHINGTON, July 30, 1830.

MY DEAR SIR: Referring to our conversation of yesterday, I beg leave to say, that your father, the late Register of the Treasury, acted as agent for defraying the incidental and contingent expenses of the department during the whole time I was there as secretary.

The disbursements on account of that agency were numerous, being made up of a great number of small items, and, without doubt, must have given the Register much trouble, for which he received no specific compensation during my time.

I return the paper you left with me, and remain, my dear sir, most faithfully, Yrs.

RICHARD RUSH.

Major NOURSE.

I admit this to have the same force as if it were in the form of a deposition.

Certificate of William H. Crawford.

WOODLAWN, 17*th Sept.* 1830.

I do hereby certify, that, when I became Secretary of the Treasury, a sum for the contingent expenses of each office in the department was appropriated by law, and each officer expended the sum so appropriated for his office, thereby creating a competition injurious to the public, especially in the articles of wood and coal. I prevailed upon Congress to appropriate an entire sum for the contingent expenses of the Treasury Department.

This entire sum was, by my direction, placed in the hands of Joseph Nourse, the Register of the Treasury, and by him expended for the officers in the department. As well as I recollect, contracts were annually made by him for all the fuel used by the department, &c. I believe the other contingent articles of the department were obtained in the same manner. He also acted as agent for the joint Library Committee of Congress. For the above services, I am not aware that he has received any compensation. I, however, always expected that he would have been allowed the per cent. usually allowed as compensation upon the expenditure of public money, and a claim for such allowance been made submitted for my consideration, would have been sanctioned, for the services rendered by him in disbursing the contingent appropriation of the department was no part of his duty as Register.

WM. H. CRAWFORD,
Late Secretary of the Treasury.

I admit this to have the same force as if it had been put into form of a deposition.

Opinion of the Attorney General in a similar case.

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF THE U. S.
December 12*th*, 1828.

SIR: I understand the facts stated in Governor Cass's letter, of the 26th November, to be admitted; and, if so, I can perceive no ground on which his claim can be properly resisted. His salary as governor is a compensation for his services as governor, but the services for which he claims do not belong to his duty as governor of the Michigan Territory; and, having been employed by the Government to perform these services, he has a fair claim for them on the principles of the quantum meruit. The facts conceded, his rights is, I think, undeniable.

I have the honor to remain,
Sir, very respectfully,
Your ob't servant,
WM. WIRT.

The Hon. PETER B. PORTER, Secretary of War.

I hereby certify that the aforegoing opinion of the late Attorney General is a true copy from the original on file in this department.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name, and caused the seal of the War office to be affixed, this fifth day of January, Anno Domini eighteen hundred and thirty.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
REGISTER'S OFFICE, July 31, 1830.

The foregoing statements exhibit the amount of moneys paid by Joseph Nourse, Esq., late Register of the Treasury, as agent for the settlement of the several accounts therein referred to.

MICH'L NOURSE, Ch. Clk.

B.

An exhibition, in detail, of the several agencies of Joseph Nourse, in the receipts and expenditures of public moneys, from the commencement thereof, in the year 1797, and ending in 1829, taken from his private accounts, with reference to dates and pages of first entries; upon which, he claims for those services and losses a commission of 2½ per cent.; in which the labors, the responsibilities of bank and other transactions, & actual losses, did arise; and, in one year, a sum not less than eight hundred dollars was considered as having been lost.

JOSEPH NOURSE.

His agencies, as appears by the several abstracts of his Treasury settlements, commenced in 1790, and ended in 1829.

To form a correct view of the agencies, it may be remarked, that the agents had a general superintendence over the several offices in the preservation of the Department from those casualties to which it was subject, and in supplying, as required, the articles of fuel, stationery, & all other articles, on the various removals, arising from the yellow fever in 1793, '7, '8, & '9, to the present seat of Government; and (at a more recent period) his responsibilities were increased by the removal in 1814. In all these, an agent's care was called forth, and, in the latter case, the preservation of so many of the public records as were preserved was the result of his care and arrangement; and of which the preserved records are a living testimony.

To a person acquainted with agencies, in respect to the responsibility of receiving and paying moneys, the preservation of vouchers, the entries in a regular manner in a set of books, the settlement of accounts with the Treasury officers, it may not be needful to say any thing.

The first ledger account, folio 64, is thus exhibited:

183	It is, however, deemed unnecessary to carry on the receipts; the foregoing show transactions arising from particular incidents of removal during the prevalence of yellow fever, and the removal of the Government to the city of Washington, one additional instance wherein great responsibility and labor was attached, and wherein the agent had the principal share, I mean the removal in 1814. The preservation of the Treasury records was happily effected by the agent's own exertion in procuring a brigade of wagons from Virginia; he carried with him a large sum of public money for public purposes.

Notes, upon the account of Joseph Nourse, of the Treasurer, for the contingent expenses of the Department.

1st. Voucher No. 246 is for a pay't of $30 to Utrick Broadbeck, for compensation for 5 months' services as an assistant messenger, during the illness of Sam'l Hoot, messenger of the 2d Auditor's office.

2d. The following five payments to a messenger for the Att'y General, appears to be for 5 quarters' salary, that is, that the last is a second pay't for one quarter, viz.

No. 522,	dated none,	Jno. Connell,	from 1 Jan'y to 31 March, 1819	30
524,	" 1 July, 1819,	do	1 Ap'l to 30 June, "	25
525,	" 13 Oct. 1819,	Alfred Moore,	for one quarter	30
529,	" none,	do	from 13 Oct. 1819, to 13 Jan. 1820,	30
761,	" 31 Dec. 1819,	do	(no time mentioned)	30

3d. No. 547, 564, 580, 603, contain each a charge of $30, for hire of boy to assist the messenger of the Register's office, in addition to Peter Knight, laborer.

The cause for not deducting any of the above from the amount charged by the Register is, that charges similar to those mentioned in notes 1 and 3 have been authorized by the Comptroller in relation to his office, as p. vouchers No. 124 and 140, 147 and 155; and, in relation to note No. 2, I am informed that the last mentioned pay't, p. vo. No. 761, is intended as an additional compensation for the whole year, is not a second pay't for the same quarter.

Whereupon, the record and proceedings aforesaid, with the abstracts and accounts, and all things thereto relating, being seen, read, and fully understood, and after argument of counsel, and mature deliberation thereon had by the court here, for that it appears to the said court that there is no error in the decree in the record of proceedings aforesaid, nor in the giving the said decree; therefore, it is considered by the court here, that the said decree, given in form aforesaid, be in all things affirmed, and stand in full force and effect.

And thereupon the said United States, by their said attorney, pray an appeal from the judgment aforesaid, so as aforesaid rendered to the Supreme Court of the United States, and it is granted them. Whereupon the United States, by their said attorney, file in court here an appeal bond, which being approved of, it is ordered by the court here, that the record and proceedings, with all things thereunto relating, be transmitted to the said Supreme Court; and the same are transmitted accordingly.

In testimony whereof, I have hereto subscribed my name, and affixed the public seal of said court for the county aforesaid, this 11th day of July, 1831.

WM. BRENT, [L. S.]
Clerk Ct. Co. Dis. Col. Co. of Washington.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, ss.—The President of the United States, to the Judges of the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Columbia, sitting for the county of Washington, greeting.

Because in the record and proceedings, as also in the rendition of the judgment of a plea which is in the said circuit court, before you, or some of you, between the United States of America, plaintiffs, and Joseph Nourse, defendant, a manifest error hath happened, to the great damage of the said United States, as by their complaint appears:

We, being willing that error, if any hath been, should be duly corrected, and full and speedy justice done to the parties aforesaid in this behalf, do command you, if judgment be therein given, that, then, under your seal, distinctly and openly, you send the record and proceedings aforesaid, with all things concerning the same, to the Supreme Court of the United States, together with this writ, so that you have the same at Washington, on the first Monday of August next, in the said Supreme Court to be then and there held; that the record and proceedings aforesaid being inspected, the said Supreme Court may cause further to be done therein to correct that error, which of right, and according to the laws and the custom of the United States, should be done.

Witness the honorable John Marshall, chief justice of the said Supreme Court.

WM. BRENT, [L. S.]
Clerk Cir. Ct. Dis. Cola., County of Washington.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, District of Columbia, Washington county, ss.—To Joseph Nourse, greeting.

You are hereby cited and admonished to be and appear at a Supreme Court of the United States to be holden at Washington on the first Monday of August next, pursuant to a writ of error filed in the clerk's office of the circuit court of the United States for the District of Columbia, in the county of Washington, wherein the United States of America is plaintiff in error, and you are defendant in error, to show cause, if any there be, why judgment rendered against the said United States, as in the said writ of error mentioned, should not be corrected, and why speedy justice should not be done to the parties in that behalf.

Witness the honorable William Cranch, chief judge of the circuit court of the District of Columbia, this 4th day of June, 1831.

Service acknowledged by

JOSEPH NOURSE.

Know all men by these presents, that we, ——— ——— ——— ———, are held and firmly bound unto Joseph Nourse, in the full and just sum of two hundred dollars, current money, to be paid to the said Joseph Nourse, his certain attorney, executors, administrators, or assigns; to which payment well and truly to be made and done, we bind ourselves and each of us, our and each of our heirs, executors, and administrators, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents. Sealed with our seals, and dated this fourth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one.

Whereas lately at a circuit court of the United States for the District of Columbia, sitting for the county of Washington, in a suit pending in the said circuit court, wherein the United States of America were plaintiffs, and the said Joseph Nourse was defendant, judgment was rendered against the said United States, and they having obtained a writ of error, and filed a copy thereof in the clerk's office of the said circuit court, to reverse the judgment in the aforesaid suit, and a citation directed to the said Joseph Nourse, citing and admonishing him to be and appear at a Supreme Court of the United States to be holden at Washington on the first Monday of August next.

Now the condition of the above obligation is such, that if the said United States shall prosecute their writ to effect, and answer all damages and costs if they fail to make their plea good, then the above obligation to be void, else to remain in full force and virtue.

GWINNETT SUPERIOR COURT, September Term, 1831.

STATE OF GEORGIA,
vs.
SAMUEL A. WORCESTER, ELIZUR BUTLER, AND OTHERS.

Indictment for a misdemeanor.

And the said Samuel A. Worcester, in his own proper person, comes and says, that this court ought not to take further cognizance of the action and prosecution aforesaid, because, he says, that, on the 15th day of July, in the year 1831, he was, and still is, a resident in the Cherokee nation; and that the said supposed crime or crimes, and each of them, were committed, if committed at all, at the town of New Echota, in the said Cherokee nation, out of the jurisdiction of this court, and not in the county Gwinnett, or elsewhere within the jurisdiction of this court: And this defendant saith, that he is a citizen of the State of Vermont, one of the United States of America, and that he entered the aforesaid Cherokee nation, in the capacity of a duly authorized missionary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, under the authority of the President of the United States, and has not since been required by him to leave it: that he was, at the time of his arrest, engaged in preaching the Gospel to the Cherokee Indians, and in translating the sacred Scriptures into their language, with the permission and approval of the said Cherokee nation, and in accordance with the humane policy of the Government of the United States for the civilization and improvement of the Indians; and that his residence there, for this purpose, is the residence charged in the aforesaid indictment: and this defendant further saith, that this prosecution the State of Georgia ought not to have or maintain, because, he saith, that several treaties have, from time to time, been entered into between the United States and the Cherokee nation of Indians, to wit: at Hopewell, on the 28th day of November, 1785; at Holston, on the 2d day of July, 1791; at Philadelphia, on the 26th day of June, 1794; at Tellico, on the 2d day of October, 1798; at Tellico, on the 24th day of October, 1804; at Tellico, on the 25th day of October, 1805; at Tellico, on the 27th day of October, 1805; at Washington city, on the 7th day of January, 1805; at Washington city, on the 22d day of March, 1816; at the Chickasaw Council House, on the 14th day of September, 1816; at the Cherokee Agency, on the 8th day of July, 1817, and at Washington city, on the 27th day of February, 1819: all which treaties have been duly ratified by the Senate of the United States of America; and, by which treaties, the United States of America acknowledge the said Cherokee nation to be a sovereign nation, authorized to govern themselves, and all persons who have settled within their territory, free from any right of legislative interference by the several States composing the United States of America, in reference to acts done within their own territory; and, by which treaties, the whole of the territory now occupied by the Cherokee nation, on the east of the Mississippi, has been solemnly guarantied to them; all of which treaties are existing treaties at this day, and in full force. By these treaties, and particularly by the treaties of Hopewell and Holston, the aforesaid territory is acknowledged to lie without the jurisdiction of the several States composing the Union of the United States; and, it is thereby specially stipulated, that the citizens of the United States shall not enter the aforesaid territory, even on a visit, without a passport from the governor of a State, or from some one duly authorized thereto, by the President of the United States: all of which will more fully and at large appear, by reference to the aforesaid treaties. And this defendant saith, that the several acts charged in the bill of indictment, were done, or omitted to be done, if at all, within the said territory so recognized as belonging to the said nation, and so, as aforesaid, held by them, under the guaranty of the United States: that, for those acts, the defendant is not amenable to the laws of Georgia, nor to the jurisdiction of the courts of the said State; and that the laws of the State of Georgia, which profess to add the said territory to the several adjacent counties of the said State, and to extend the laws of Georgia over the said territory, and persons inhabiting the same; and, in particular, the act on which this indictment vs. this defendant is grounded, to wit: "an act entitled an act to prevent the exercise of assumed and arbitrary power, by all persons under pretext of authority from the Cherokee Indians, and their laws, and to prevent white persons from residing within that part of the chartered limits of Georgia, occupied by the Cherokee Indians, and to provide a guard for the protection of the gold mines, and to enforce the laws of the State within the aforesaid territory," are repugnant to the aforesaid treaties; which, according to the Constitution of the United States, compose a part of the supreme law of the land; and that these laws of Georgia are, therefore, unconstitutional, void, and of no effect; that the said laws of Georgia are also unconstitutional and void, because they impair the obligation of the various contracts formed by and between the aforesaid Cherokee nation and the said United States of America, as above recited: also, that the said laws of Georgia are unconstitutional and void, because they interfere with, and attempt to regulate and control the intercourse with the said Cherokee nation, which, by the said Constitution, belongs exclusively to the Congress of the United States; and because the said laws are repugnant to the statute of the United States, passed on the ____ day of March, 1802, entitled an act to regulate trade and intercourse with the Indian tribes, and to preserve peace on the frontiers: and that, therefore, this court has no jurisdiction to cause this defendant to make further or other answer to the said bill of indictment, or further to try and punish this defendant for the said supposed offence or offences alleged in the bill of indictment, or any of them: And, therefore, this defendant prays judgment whether he shall be held bound to answer further to said indictment?

GEORGIA, Gwinnett county:

Personally appeared in open court, Samuel A. Worcester, and, being sworn, saith, that the several matters and things contained in the above and foregoing plea, are true in substance and in fact.

Sworn to, and subscribed in open court, this 15th September, 1831.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, ss.—The President of the United States to the honorable the judges of the superior court for the county of Gwinnett, in the State of Georgia, greeting:

Because in the record and proceedings, as also in the rendition of the judgment of a plea which is in the said superior court, for the county of Gwinnett, before you, or some of you, between the State of Georgia, plaintiff, and Elizur Butler, defendant, on an indictment, being the highest court of law in said State, in which a decision could be had in said suit, a manifest error hath happened, to the great damage of the said Elizur Butler, as by his complaint appears. We being willing that error, if any hath been, should be duly corrected, and full and speedy justice done to the parties aforesaid in this behalf, do command you, if judgment be therein given, that, then under your seal distinctly and openly, you send the record and proceedings aforesaid, with all things concerning the same, to the Supreme Court of the United States, together with this writ, so that you have the same at Washington, on the second Monday of January next, in the said Supreme Court, to be then and there held; that the record and proceedings aforesaid being inspected, the said Supreme Court may cause further to be done therein, to correct that error, what of right, and according to the laws and custom of the United States, should be done.

THE STATE OF GEORGIA,
vs.
ELIZUR BUTLER, SAMUEL A. WORCESTER, AND OTHERS.

Indicted for a misdemeanor.

SUPERIOR COURT, September Term, 1831:

And the said Elizur Butler, in his own proper person, comes and says, that this court ought not to take further cognizance of the action and prosecution aforesaid, because, he says, that, on the 15th day of July, in the year 1831, he was, and still is, a resident in the Cherokee nation; and that the said supposed crime or crimes, and each and every of them, were committed, if committed at all, at Flowers, in the said Cherokee nation, out of the jurisdiction of this court, and not in the county Gwinnett, or elsewhere within the jurisdiction of this court: And this defendant saith, that he is a citizen of the State of Massachusetts, one of the United States of America, and that he entered the aforesaid Cherokee nation, in the capacity of a duly authorized and commissioned assistant missionary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, under the authority of the President of the United States, and has not since been by him required to leave it: that he was, at the time of his arrest, engaged in the superintendance of a school and mission station, with the permission and approval of the aforesaid Cherokee nation, and in pursuance of the humane policy of the Government of the United States for the civilization and improvement of the Indians; and that his residence there, for this purpose, is the residence charged in the aforesaid indictment: and this defendant further saith, that this prosecution the State of Georgia ought not to have or maintain, because, he saith, that several treaties have, from time to time, been entered into between the United States and the Cherokee nation of Indians, to wit: at Hopewell, on the 28th day of November, 1785; at Holston, on the 2d day of July, 1791; at Philadelphia, on the 25th day of June, 1794; at Tellico, on the 2d day of October, 1798; at Tellico, on the 24th day of October, 1804; at Tellico, on the 25th day of October, 1805; at Tellico, on the 27th day of October, 1805; at Washington city, on the 7th day of January, 1806; at Washington city, on the 22d day of March, 1810; at the Chickasaw Council House, on the 14th day of September, 1816; at the Cherokee Agency, on the 8th day of July, 1817, and at Washington city, on the 27th day of February, 1819: all which treaties have been duly ratified by the Senate of the United States of America; and, by which treaties, the United States acknowledge the said Cherokee nation to be a sovereign nation, authorized to govern themselves, and all persons who have settled within their territory, free from any right of legislative interference by the several States composing the United States of America, in reference to acts done within their own territory; and, by which treaties, the whole of the territory now occupied by the Cherokee nation, on the east of the Mississippi, has been solemnly guarantied to them; all of which treaties are existing treaties at this day, and in full force. By these treaties, and particularly by the treaties of Hopewell and Holeston, the aforesaid territory is acknowledged to lie without the jurisdiction of the several States composing the Union of the United States; and, it is thereby specially stipulated, that the citizens of the United States shall not enter the aforesaid territory, even on a visit, without a passport from the governor of a State, or from some one duly authorized thereto, by the President of the United States: all of which will more fully and at large appear, by reference to the aforesaid treaties. And this defendant saith, that the several acts charged in the bill of indictment, were done, or omitted to be done, if at all, within the said territory so recognized as belonging to the said nation, and so, as aforesaid, held by them, under the guaranty of the United States: that, for those acts, the defendant is not amenable to the laws of Georgia, nor to the jurisdiction of the courts of the said State; and that the laws of the State of Georgia, which profess to add the said territory to the several adjacent counties of the said State, and to extend the laws of Georgia over the said territory, and persons inhabiting the same; and, in particular, the act on which the indictment against this defendant is grounded, to wit: " an act to prevent the exercise of assumed and arbitrary power, by all persons under pretext of authority from the Cherokee Indians, and their laws, and to prevent white persons from residing within that part of the chartered limits of Georgia, occupied by the Cherokee Indians, and to provide a guard for the protection of the gold mines, and to enforce the laws of the State within the aforesaid territory, are repugnant to the aforesaid treaties; which, according to the Constitution of the United States, compose a part of the supreme law of the land; and that these laws of Georgia are, therefore, unconstitutional, void, and of no effect; that the said laws of Georgia are also unconstitutional and void, because they impose the obligation of the various contracts formed by and between the aforesaid Cherokee nation and the said United States of America, as above recited: also, that the said laws of Georgia are unconstitutional and void, because they interfere with, and attempt to regulate and control the intercourse with the said Cherokee nation, which, by the said Constitution, belongs exclusively to the Congress of the United States; and because the said laws are repugnant to the statute of the United States, passed on the 30th day of March, 1802, entitled an act to regulate trade and intercourse with the Indian tribes, and to preserve peace on the frontiers: and that, therefore, this court has no jurisdiction to cause this defendant to make further or other answer to the said bill of indictment, or further to try and punish this defendant for the said supposed offence or offences alleged in the bill of indictment, or any of them: And, therefore, the said defendant prays judgment whether he shall be held bound to answer further to said indictment?

GEORGIA, Gwinnett county:

Personally appeared in open court, Elizur Butler, and, being sworn, saith, that the several matters and things contained in the above and foregoing plea, are true in substance and fact.

Sworn and subscribed in open court, this 15th September, 1831.
